

The new reports show a disturbing trend in the way the justice system treats people of color. In a report from the American Civil Liberties Union, a national civil rights organization, it is noted that the police departments in the United States are not only failing to protect the rights of people of color, but they are also actively discriminating against them. The report states that the police departments in the United States are not only failing to protect the rights of people of color, but they are also actively discriminating against them. The report states that the police departments in the United States are not only failing to protect the rights of people of color, but they are also actively discriminating against them.

Aðaldröðin er flokkuð eftir aldri og kyni. Hér er sýnt á hvernig er flokkunin byggð upp. Hér er sýnt á hvernig er flokkunin byggð upp.